

CHANSONS CANADIENNES

UN CANADIEN ERRANT, Chant patriotique Canadien-Français (with images)

This poignant song, written in 1842, honors the courageous French Canadian Patriotes exiled to Australia for their role in the Rebellion of 1837. These insurgents rose against English rule, striving to establish a French-speaking republic in America. Over time, the song resonated beyond Canada, in Louisiana, the American Midwest, and New England—where French Canadians also experienced the pain of exile from their homeland.
